The kids come to us with bags we have not packed
- veteran adoptive parent JoAnne Dumaresq

Adoptive parents, especially those who are raising children who have experienced significant loss and trauma, tell us over and over again that they are surprised and sometimes at a loss as to how to deal with their children’s behaviour. Over the past 3 years, the Adoption Council of Ontario has offered adoptive parents a safe forum in which to meet and share their experiences, to reflect and problem solve together. These meetings are facilitated by expert clinicians on the staff of the Adoption Council of Ontario.

They are modelled on a program called Changing the Script: Relationship is the Key ©
